MISSIONARIES TO LEAVE.

Turkish Officials Allow Americans to Come, Wires Morgenthau.

Secretary Bryan announced yesterday that Ambassador Morgenthau, at Constantinople, had reported that the Turkish government had consented to the departure from the country of a number of American missionaries anxious to leave.

For months the State Department's representatives in Turkey have been encouraging American missionaries to leave that country. Though there has been no general instruction to this effect, it has been the opinion of well-informed officials that Americans would do well to get out of Turkey before the threatened storm broke over their heads.

BRITISH RUSH TO EXHIBIT.

Two Ships May Be Necessary to Carry Displays to France.

London, Nov. 27.—Interest in the Panama exposition is growing. Manufacturers are besieging the headquarters of the exposition in this city requesting space on the American steamer Jason for the conveyance of their exhibits on the return trip of the ship. The Jason has just arrived from New York with toys for child victims of the war.

It is evident that the Jason will not be able to carry all the goods which manufacturers are sending to the United States, and it is likely that the Panama exposition committee will petition the American State Department to send another ship to be placed at the disposal of exhibitors.

From a broken leg and internal injuries received on the morning of November 2, when he plunged over a bill to escape arrest as a robber, Arthur Brannan, colored, died at Emergency Hospital yesterday.

Policeman Jeremiah Sullivan, of the Tenth precinct, found Brannan in his chicken house. The negro ran when the policeman shot him in the ankle. In his effort to escape, Brannan plunged down a steep hill in the rear of 201 S Street northwest, where he was killed.

Acting Coroner White ordered an inquest to be held at the District morgue today at 1:30 o'clock to fix the responsibility for the negro's death.

ENGLAND RALLIES FROM DEPRESSION

Chancellor Lloyd George Blames Debtors for Early Financial Troubles.

U. S. OWED $5,000,000,000

War Loan Now Oversubscribed and Conditions Are Back at Normal.

By HERBERT TEMPLE.

London, Nov. 27.—Chancellor Lloyd George, in a speech in the House of Commons this afternoon, declared that England had rallied from the financial depression caused by the war and that conditions now were of the best. In evidence of his statement, the chancellor pointed out that the war loan of $1,700,000,000 had been oversubscribed. The early depression in England was attributed by Mr. Lloyd George to the fact that the whole world owed England money, but this country could not get it. Among the large debtors to England, he said, was the United States.

After stating that the war loan had been oversubscribed, the chancellor declared that the applicants numbered more than 1,000,000, but he gave no figures as to the amount oversubscribed.

"The position of Great Britain in international commerce is unique," said Mr. Lloyd George, "standing without parallel. The financial deadlock at the beginning of the war was not caused by lack of national credit, but the failure to receive remittances from abroad."

"The transactions of the Bank of England in this critical time have been enormous. In spite of the prevailing conditions, however, there has been only one serious complaint."

The chancellor declared that Great Britain's business and commerce had been saved by the 1911 Operations passed by Parliament to assist the empire's finances. He added that the currency notes outstanding now amount to $28,400,000.

"This government has accepted responsibilities that no government in the past has undertaken," declared the chancellor. "This is the first great war to be fought under modern conditions."

Had to Sustain Credit.

"When the war broke out it was vital to Great Britain's credit that bills bearing British names, throughout the world, should be honored. Great Britain then was a world creditor, but we could not even buy a cargo of frost-bitten mutton from Argentina."

"The government decided to hypothecate the public credit in an effort to restore confidence in the exchanges of the world. It was vital that this should be done for the immediate needs. It would have been criminal to allow the national credit to be in doubt for twenty-four hours."

The chancellor stated that the Bank of England had been in an agreement with the government, bills amounting to $600,000,000.

As to stock exchanges, Mr. Lloyd George said that the government is so astounded that they should not reopen without the sanction of the treasury department.

In concluding, the chancellor said that the Bank of England has a gold reserve of $417,400,000.

SAYS GERMANS ONCE HATED THEIR CUSTOMS

Dr. Usher Thinks One Must Go There to See How Devoted They Are to Kaiser.

"The Germans of the eighteenth century were not admired by the outside world, and they did not admire themselves, their customs, their clothes, their manners, or their furniture," said Dr. Roland G. Usher, professor of history at Washington University, St. Louis, in the course of his lectures yesterday afternoon and evening before the National Geographic Society at the new Masonic Temple.

"It is a strange fact," he continued, "that the first book to bring Germany to the attention of the outside world, and to itself was written by a woman—a French woman, who married a Swede—Mme. de Stael. And it was written in French, too, for it had to be written in German no one would have read it. She wrote that after crossing into Germany an indescribable silence came over nature and over the people themselves, that time seemed to move more slowly, and that the progress of vegetation seemed to be as slow as the progress of ideas in the German mind."

The railroad, bridging the rivers and tunneling the mountains united all Germany in commerce, united it in purpose and destiny. The natural barriers to intercourse were broken down and modern Germany began to grow.

Dr. Usher paid high tribute to Emperor William, saying that no man who had not studied the devotion of the German people to him—how they loved him as typifying all that was best in Germany, the faith of the people in their future, the purpose to make Germany a nation master and foremost among the nations of the world—to make it a Germany in which they delighted to live and for which they would cheerfully die.

FIGHTING INCREASED RATES.

Garrett Park People Want Aid in Opposing Railroad.

The Home and School Association of Garrett Park, Md., is sending circular letters to citizens' associations, home and school associations, real estate companies, banks, building associations and various other organizations asking for help in the fight against the proposed increase of commutation rates on the Metropolitan branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The association intends to make common cause with powerful allies, including commuters' organizations around Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York, the clerk of the law, signed President Lewis W. Call and Secretary J. G. Gurley, the association charges.

"This action on the part of the railroad strikes a deadly blow at the welfare of persons living along the Metropolitan branch. The proposed rates are practically prohibitory. They must inevitably result in a heavy draft on our income, partial depopulation of the territory and decreased railroad service with serious depreciation in property values."

PLEA FOR WRIT MADE IN CASE OF RIXEY

Alexandria Has Given $130 to Belgian Relief—Thieves Busy at Home of Milton Franklin.

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 27.—A petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of C. Jones Rixey, former head of the defendant Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation, of this city, and who is sentenced to the State Prison for a term of five years, was presented to the State Supreme Court of Appeals today through Rixey's attorneys, John L. Jeffries, of Norfolk, and James R. Caton, of this city.

The order of the Corporation Court, entered February 12, 1912, directing that Rixey be delivered by the city sergeant to the superintendent of the Southwest State Hospital for the Insane, is alleged to be invalid because it is claimed the act under which the order of the Corporation Court was made was inoperative at the date of the order, and because it is further alleged there existed at that time no such ward for the criminal insane.

It also is alleged "that the judgment of the commission of lunacy, held in the county of Orange, September 9, 1911, was res adjudicata, and therefore the Corporation Court could not proceed any further with the case until the defendant was discharged from the Western State Hospital for the Insane, at Staunton."

The report of H. Noel Garner, special commissioner in the suit of Rudolph J. Eckhoff and others against the Emerson Steam Pump Company, was filed in the Corporation Court today. The total assets, with the exception of the real estate of the company, are, according to the report, $48,500.00. The liabilities are a $100 bond issue and an indebtedness of $32,312.18.

A total of $100 has been raised thus far for the relief of the Belgian war sufferers. In addition to the contributions of $50 previously acknowledged the following additional contributions are announced: William R. Smoot, $25; Dr. Hugh McGuire, $20; Carlisle-Huntley, $20; R. L. Payne, $5; Mrs. M. A. Cleavey, $5; F. M. Bradshaw, $5; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Harrison, $5; Miss Milburn, $5.

The home of Milton Franklin, in Alfred street, was entered last night by thieves who secured $50 in cash and a lady's watch. This house is near the store of Sande & Co., which was looted yesterday morning.

Three months in jail was the sentence imposed in the police court today in the case of Clarence Fry, colored, charged with stealing old iron and a stove from the plant of the Bryant Fertilizer Company. Fry admitted guilt.

Rose E. Carter has sold to John E. and Clarence E. Purcell a house and lot in Hermit street between King and Prince streets.

The Alexandria German Club gave its first dance of the season tonight in the auditorium of the Elks' Home.

F. M. Bradshaw qualified as school trustee from the second ward in the Corporation Court today.

BRYAN UNDECIDED ON WAR ZONE PROPOSAL

South American Countries Would Have to Exclude Western Hemisphere from Future Operations.

Secretary Bryan said yesterday just before leaving for a brief speaking trip in the West, that no decision has yet been made on the proposal of a neutral zone in the Western Hemisphere, that the United States lead a joint movement seeking to bring about a delimitation of the zone of war operations in the Western Hemisphere.

It is not expected any decision will be communicated to the South American governments until next week, after the return of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan to Washington.

Though several propositions were submitted to the United States government by the southernmost South American countries, that one relating to the establishment of a neutral zone about the Western Hemisphere is regarded as the most important. It is regarded as the one most difficult to carry into effect, as it does, the bringing of Germany, France, England, and Japan into an agreement to discontinue all operations in the vicinity of North, South, and Central America.

The other suggestions that the Pan-American Union name a commission to investigate means of protecting the trade of the Western Hemisphere now disturbed by the war, and calling a conference to discuss the same subject, are regarded as simple matters compared with the task of getting the belligerents to agree to such a vast limitation upon their operations.

WILSON ON WAY HOME.

Smith College Girls Serenade President at Northampton.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 27.—President Wilson is on his way home to Washington, aboard his private car, attached to the Federal Express. He will reach the White House at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and will at once go to work on his message to Congress. His Thanksgiving holiday with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Howes Sayre, at Williamsstown, N.J., ended at 4 o'clock today as quietly as it began.

An invitation wired to the President today by Col. E. M. Hane, of his staff, to spend Saturday and Sunday in the crowded crowd under the windows of Mr. Wilson's car, which was sang in his honor, improvised for the occasion.

At North Adams, a textile mill town, several hundred persons cheered him as he came out on the car platform. The rush to shake his hand was at its height when the train drew away.
